CLINTON & SON,

the practical
Eye Glass Men.

"Yes"

"My headaches have left me, and I once more feel like living and working." Thus spoke one of our customers who consulted our graduate optician as to his headaches.

This man works hard from early morn until late at night, and had put off calling until he was compelled to remain away from work on account of his headaches. One of his friends recommended us, and we are glad to have been able to put this man back in the harness.

If YOU have been troubled lately with your eyes, don't delay having them looked after, as it is more important than you imagine.

Sign of the Big Ring.
